Father’s Day!

A father is neither an anchor to hold us back, nor a sail to take us there, but a guiding light whose love shows us the way.

Father’s Day is a good time to consider the role men have as guiding lights for their children and to renew their commitment to being the best dads they can possibly be.

To be a father is to offer our children spiritual, emotional, and physical guidance. It is spending quality time with them. It is attending dance recitals and coaching teams. It means helping with homework. It’s knowing when to say “yes,” but also when to say “no.” It requires sharing our experience and common-sense wisdom to help prepare the path for their individual life journeys.

God will always be the ultimate guiding light. Choose to follow the example of our Heavenly Father, whose desire is to be in a close relationship with all of his children; whose gifts of love and grace provide a perfect model for being the guiding lights we are called to be as we show our children the way.

Happy Father’s Day!

Blessings,

Tom
